Star Ferry

A Star Ferry crossing is said to be an essential journey for all visitors to Hong Kong. The ferry service carries passengers and commuters between Hong Kong Island and Kowloon. They operate two routes and run eight ferries. Star Ferry carries 21.6 million passengers a year with an average of 59 176 passengers a day.

Star Ferry has received a Certificate of Excellence Award from an online review site. The recognition is given to organisations which constantly get excellent reviews on the website and deliver outstanding customer experience. The award takes into account not only the quality and quantity of recent travellers' reviews and experiences, but also the average rating over a twelve month period.

Online review sites are growing in popularity. The sites assist customers in gathering unbiased travel information, posting reviews and opinions of travel related content and engaging in interactive travel forums.
