Question 4

The Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan

Holy Sites

Jordan is part of the Holy Land that gave birth to three of the world's great monotheistic religions. Sites of significance to believers worldwide are preserved here. Many tombs of Prophets and Sahabas (Companions) of Islam are in Jordan as well as shrines and historical sites that have great meaning to all Muslims: Prophet Muhammad's early awareness of his calling through the encounter with the Monk Bahia is traditionally associated with a tree in As-Safawi (4G) and also with Umm ar-Rasas (6E) (known in Islam as Mayfa'a); Al-Yarmuk (2D), Mu'ta (7D) and Al-Mazar (3D, 7D) are important sites of Islam; and near 'Amman is Kahf al-Raqim, the Cave of the Sleepers.

Madaba (5D), an archaeological park and the ancient city of mosaics - it has the oldest preserved ancient mosaic map of the holy lands. To the west is Mount Nebo (5D), traditionally believed to be the burial place of Prophet Moses. Further south along the Dead Sea is the Sanctuary of Lot (7D), the cave to which Lot and his daughters escaped when fleeing the destruction of Sodom. Also, of old and new Testament significance is Umm ar-Rasas.

East of the Jordan River, across from the ancient town of Jericho, is Wadi Kharrar (5D); it was to this region that Jesus withdrew when the crowds in Jerusalem threatened him. In the south region of Wadi Kharrar is the biblical "Bethany beyond the Jordan, known by its Arabic name al-Maghtas (5D); it is believed to be the place where John baptized Jesus. Nearby are the ruins of Bethabara, a Byzantine church commemorating John the Baptist. Overlooking the Dead Sea is Mukawir (Machaerus) (6D), where Herod imprisoned and finally beheaded John the Baptist. Other important Christian sites include Pella (3D), the destination of early Christians fleeing the Roman persecution in Jerusalem; Feinan (8C), an ancient copper mine where the Romans forced early Christians to work and the miracle of wine in the cathedral of Jarash (4D).
